Elevate Your Wellness with EmpowerRF: Pioneering Women's Care

Empower RF is the most advanced technology available, delivering life-changing women's wellness treatments. With this one platform, multiple complaints can be addressed including stress, urge, and mixed incontinence, vaginal dryness, pain with intercourse, chronic infections, and vaginal laxity. From helping restore basic function and quality of vaginal health to improving the appearance of the vagina and vulva, EmpowerRF can cover it all.

Stress Urinary Incontinence

Approximately 1 out of 3 women over the age of 45 and 1 out of every 2 women over 65 have stress urinary incontinence.¹

Sexual Dysfunction

A recent study found that some form of female sexual dysfunction was reported in 58% of first time mothers one year after childbirth.² The main complaints included insufficient lubrication, abnormal vaginal sensation, vaginal laxity, vaginal tightness, pain with intercourse, and incontinence during intercourse. For 1 in 10 women, sex hurts-every time. A new study, which surveyed nearly 7,000 British women ages 16 to 74, found that women in the late 50s and early 60s were most likely to experience pain during sex, followed by women ages 16 to 24.

Overactive Bladder (OAB)

OAB affects an estimated 33 million people in the U.S., and half of these people are struggling with urgency urinary incontinence, when leakage actually occurs.³ Nocturia is quite common among women: studies and surveys have found that 76% of women over age 40 report getting up to go to the bathroom at least once per night. About one-third of adults over age 30 make two or more nightly bathroom trips.⁴
